

Gaza truce plan creates new cracks in fragile Netanyahu government

written by Prof. Kobi Michael | 03.06.2024

Prof. Kobi Michael: unfortunately, once again, Biden gave Hamas reason to be optimistic.

[The proposals] will make Hamas think that the president and the international community are about to heavily pressure Israel [into accepting a deal], so they believe time is on their side and that they have no incentive to make any significant movements.

Published in The National News UAE June 3, 2024.

